Conducting Masterclass

ABOUT PROF SIGMUND THORP

Sigmund Thorp is a Norwegian conductor, having conducted Norwegian orchestras in addition to numerous orchestras in many European cities, including London, Paris, Berlin and St. Petersburg.

" The best prerequisite for preparing a score is to get inspired by the music itself. To feel that the music grabs you when you hear it, and by saying to yourself "I want to play this music! If the music touches an important string inside you, this is the best motivation to get to know it and to make your own version of a piece. "

WHAT YOU GET

- 65 minutes podium time with string orchestra.
- 50 minutes podium time with professional pianist.
- 9 hours of conducting technique (Physical Mechanics & Baton Technique, Expressive & Interpretive Gesture, Score Study & Analytical Application and Ensemble Leadership & Rehearsal Pedagogy)
- Final Concert (venue TBC)
- A complimentary ticket for the lecture-concert Viva Grieg.
